Shipping Workers Strike at All Ports On East Seaboard

NEW YORK, Nov. 13 (Saturday) (AP)—A longshoremen's strike expected to tie up docks from Maine to Virginia became effective at 12:01 a. m. today.

The walkout threatens to paralyze a large segment of the nation's multi-million-dollar shipping industry. But effects were not expected to be widespread until Monday because of a normal weekend lull in ship-loading activities.

Marshall Hits Red Aim In Peace Drive

PARIS, Nov. 12 (P)—Secretary of State George C. Marshall declared today Russia is waging a propaganda peace offensive with the real aim of wrecking the world position of the United States.

Russia's action in spreading a report of a suggested Truman-Stalin meeting is part of this propaganda drive, Marshall said.

He gave his views at an extraordinary news conference at the same time his deputy delegate, Frederick H. Osborn, accused Soviet leaders of carrying on a second type of propaganda effort at home—that of using "thrill government" directed propaganda to prepare the Russian people for war. Osborn blasted at Russia during debate on the disarmament issue in the political committee of the United Nations assembly.

Marshall said Soviet propaganda in the U. N. has been successful. The great majority of nations in the world organization, he continued, have lined up solidly in their opinions on the world situation.

THE SECRETARY defined propaganda peace offensives as procedures designed to play upon the general desire for peace with the real purpose of wrecking the position of the United States.

President Reunited With Family for A 10-Day Vacation

KEY WEST, Fla., Nov. 12 (P)—The Harry S. Trumans, who saw little of each other during the hue and cry of the political campaign, were reunited here today for a quiet family reunion.

Against a background of world discord and concern over administrative affairs, the nation's first family gathered for ten days to get together under the Florida sun.

Mrs. Truman and her daughter Margaret arrived from Washington after a streamliner trip to Miami and a drive over the colorful overseas highway to Key West. President Truman awaited them here, already tanned and refreshed by five days' rest.

Mr. Truman took care of some business before his family arrived. He ordered an inquiry into possible "red tape" delay in payment of government benefits to veterans.

He directed Secretary of Defense Forrestal and Veterans Administrator Carl R. Gray to conduct the inquiry and report back to him on steps to eliminate obstacles to quicker action on claims.

A CASE CITED by Jerry Klutz, Washington Post columnist, prompted the order. Eben Ayers, assistant presidential press secretary, reported.

Talks Started to Settle Greek-Neighbors Issue

PARIS, Nov. 12 (P)—Preliminary talks toward a settlement between Greece and her northern neighbors began in private today at the United Nations.

Dr. Herbert V. Evatt, of Australia, president of the general assembly and chief initiator of the negotiations, described the first results as encouraging.

Evatt and Selim Sarper, of Turkey, representing the assembly's 58-nation political committee, started the negotiations by meeting separately with representatives of Greece, Albania, Bulgaria and Yugoslavia.

Hatching Up Saturday Night Frolic for Pottstown Teen-Agers

YOUTHS' DANCES TO BEGIN HERE

First of Series Planned For Local Teen-Agers To Be Held Next Week

Plans for the first Saturday night dance for high school boys and girls went into high gear yesterday at a combined meeting of the student dance committee and the Pottstown Recreation commission in the Senior High school.

The group met to arrange the dance which will be held in the YMCA gym next Saturday night from 8:30 to 11:30 o'clock.

Boys and girls attending the affair will pay a 50-cent admission fee to cover the cost of the orchestra. Paul Hoffman's aggregation will play at the first dance.

SATURDAY NIGHT dances were the first choice of boys and girls in a recent survey conducted by the commission in an effort to plan a recreation program for the high school age group. The students said they would be willing to pay a nominal fee to have a band rather than recorded music.

"We want these dances to be for all high school boys and girls, from North Coventry and West Pottsgrove as well as from Pottstown," Recreation Director Francis Donnon said.

"Most boys and girls want to dance, and that's what they will be able to do. There won't be any restricted dance program. Later on, if enough students want them, we'll arrange for spot dances and jitterbug contests. Otherwise, they will be able to dance as they like all evening."

JOHNNY PRICE, Pottstown dancer, said he had been the last person seen with the woman before her body was found.

Police also announced that they had found blood-stained clothing in Keller's room in the home of a brother. These clothes, police said, Keller wore while he entertained Mrs. Avalon in a taproom a few hours before her death.

Christine said "it looks very much like the work of a sex pervert but we are unable to say definitely at this time."

The woman apparently was first attacked in the nearby cemetery, Christine said, and then beaten and dragged along the alley as she sought to fight off her slayer.

Coroner A. M. Peters reported the woman died from hemorrhages of the brain, chest and abdomen.

A stocking with a stone in it had been stuffed down her throat, Peters said, and there were stab type wounds in the head and face.

Coroner Peters said further tests were being conducted to determine whether Mrs. Avalon had been raped.

RESIDENTS NEAR the old Allentown cemetery, now a shrine to the Revolutionary and other war dead, said they heard a woman's screams about 2:30 a. m.

Carl Olson found the woman's body nearly four hours later while on his way to work at a nearby produce warehouse.

Christine, reconstructing the details of the slaying, said the woman apparently entered the cemetery willingly but tried vainly to scramble over a six-foot wall.

"The woman was wearing a dark dress and a light-colored blouse," Christine said. "She was carrying a bag."

"She was carrying a bag," Christine said. "She was carrying a bag."

PAGING MAN WITH A LANTERN

Alley Can't Be Seen for Cars

By FRED SELBY (Mercury Staff Writer)

WHEN gasoline-powered vehicles first were invented, the law required that a man carrying a red lantern walk in front of each one.

A spot check last night showed that the traffic situation in Pottstown's Buttonwood alley might profit by the revival of such a statute.

The ill-paved alley just north of High street has two stretches. The first runs a straight line between York street and Hanover street.

The second runs from a spot along King street just east of Hanover street to Charlotte street, making a 90-degree turn as it goes.

THEORETICALLY, it should be simple to drive the length of the alley, for parking is banned along the route by more signs than are situated on any short stretch of road in Pottstown.

There are two reasons for the parking ban. First, the alley is narrow. Second, being ill-lighted and seldom used by pedestrians, it would be an ideal parking site for men wishing to fill a car with free merchandise from any one of the 50-odd stores that have their backs turned to the alley.

But this is what a motorist would have contended with last night at 7:30 to 7:40 o'clock, if he had tried to drive from York street to Charlotte street via the alley route.

Pulling into the alley from York street wouldn't be too difficult, if one could avoid the cream-colored panel truck resting directly under a "No Parking" sign some 25 feet from the curb.

Things would grow tougher halfway up the block. One light yellow sedan was facing east, parked on the north side, a boulder's throw from another "No Parking" sign. The problem would be to squeeze

THE SETTLEMENT was announced by a spokesman for the unions and later confirmed by a spokesman for the carriers.

The engineers, firemen, and switchmen had demanded a boost of 18 percent this time. This represented the difference between the 30 percent wage increase they demanded Sept. 30, 1947 and the 15 1/2 percent boost they accepted in July at the recommendation of a Presidential fact-finding board.

Early this year they rejected the fact-finding board's suggestion and called a strike for May 10. President Truman then

CHICAGO, Nov. 12 (AP)—Three railroad unions whose strike threat last May was blocked by a last minute Federal court injunction reached wage settlement with the railroads today.

They accepted a 10 cents hourly wage boost, retroactive to Oct. 16.

The settlement, covering 250,000 engineers, firemen, and switchmen, completed the third-round wage increases for five unions whose 350,000 members operate the nation's trains.

Still unsettled, however, are the wage and working conditions demands of some 1,000,000 members of 16 non-operating unions whose members are telegraphers, yardmen, and others not actually engaged in operating the trains. A Presidential fact-finding board is hearing this dispute.

A similar 10-cent hourly wage increase was accepted Oct. 4 by two unions representing conductors and trainmen.

Missing B29 Crew Is Sighted on Island

SPOKANE, Nov. 12 (P)—The crew of a B29 bomber reported missing early today has been sighted beside the crashed plane on a Pacific island atoll, the Spokane Air Force base commander said tonight.

Col. James E. Briggs said he had learned in a telephone conversation with air force officials in Japan the crew of the missing bomber was sighted from the air and a Navy destroyer is steaming toward the island.

Members of the crew were seen walking near the wrecked bomber, but it was not determined if any of the men were injured, Colonel Briggs said.

The plane, one from the 98th Bomb group on temporary duty from its Spokane base, was declared missing while searching for another B29 in the area of Guam.

The Spokane base commander said the site of the crash was reported to be 130 miles east of Yap island.

Area Bear Hunters To Head North for Opening of Season

The six-day Pennsylvania bear season, which opens Monday, will find at least eight Pottstown area hunters loaded for same.

A party of five from Stowe and Pottstown, will leave at 6 a. m. Sunday to be on hand in the huntland at 7 o'clock Monday morning when the opening gong sounds.

In the party will be William and Stephen Slaby and Peter Zezenski, all of Stowe; Ralph Krause, of King street, and John McGee, of Ringing Hill. Krause's car will be the transportation.

The nimrod, all of whom have hunted bear before, will range in the vicinity of Clinton, Tioga, Potter and Lycoming counties in the extreme north central part of the state.

William Slaby said they may stay a day or two of the whole season. He is the only member who has hunted that region before.

No matter how long they stay, the hunters may not bring back more than two bears, the limit for a party for one day and for the season. Individual limit is one bear per season.

Slaby said tactics against bruin compare with deer hunting—either drive them or stalk them.

Woman Driving Pupil Undaunted After Rolling Over Five-Foot Bank

A 42-year-old woman, learning to drive, yesterday afternoon learned to tell a clutch pedal from a brake pedal and that cars, unlike horses, do not straighten themselves out after taking a curve.

The only results of her imperfect knowledge were cuts and bruises "suffered" by a young dogwood tree and a few scratches on her husband's month-old car.

Mrs. John L. Rose, 362 East First street, Birdsboro, was the learner. Accompanying her was Mrs. C. Augustus Eshelman, of the same address, who has taken her pupil driving many times before.

The pair was driving in the neighborhood of Cold Springs park when they discovered they were lost.

HUNTING for the Hopewell road which would lead home, Mrs. Rose hopefully turned down what looked like a macadam highway. It turned out later to be the driveway of the home of Robert P. Smith, pie company head.

Mrs. Rose made the turn gracefully but froze at the controls and kept on turning.

Mrs. Eshelman yelled, "Put on the brake!" The driver's foot slammed down on the clutch pedal. The car rolled on in before.

Parking Fines Drop Below 1947 Figures

Pottstown motorists are keeping a watchful eye on parking meters these days.

Or so it appears, when you consider that the number of $1 fines paid for parking overtime at the borough's 610 parking meters has decreased.

In October, 1947, exactly 500 fines were levied, while in October of this year there were but 344.

In November the past year there were 388 red tickets put on cars and paid, while the first 12 days of November, 1948, showed that 175 such tags were turned into borough hall with a one dollar bill.

If there was any other explanation of the drop in fines, other than motorists' increasing carefulness, it was not forthcoming yesterday.

Biggest month this year for parking fines was March, when $624 was taken in.

Violations averaged approximately between 200 and 250 monthly in 1947, until Sept. 29 of that year, when 220 meters were installed on King street, bringing the borough total to 610 meters.

A month-by-month comparison of the fines paid shows:

	1947	1948
January	196	277
February	181	412
March	235	624
April	254	543
May	261	500
June	236	473
July	287	419
August	242	368
September	326	312
October	500	384
November	288	175 (to Nov. 12)
December	365
Total	3411	4547 (to Nov. 12)

The drop in the number of violations during winter months was routine, a consensus of borough hall thought revealed, since most drivers don't bring out their cars on snow-bound, icy roads, unless it is necessary.

Child Struck by Car, But Is Not Injured

George Wentzel, three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Wentzel, 1228 Maple street, was uninjured yesterday afternoon after he was struck by a slowly-moving car on Maple street, between Moser road and Roland street.

The child darted out from a parked car in front of an automobile driven by Harry H. Rotz, Ninth and State streets.

Rotz told police in borough hall that the first thing he saw was a red cap darting out in front of me from a parked car on the right."

The driver stopped immediately and, after calling George's mother, took the boy to the office of Dr. Herbert P. Seto, 1236 High street.

Dr. Seto said the Wentzel child was uninjured.

Gypsy Loses Her Job Over 10,000 'Skins'

NEW YORK, Nov. 12 (P)—A weeping Gypsy Rose Lee said today she got fired from her first Broadway night club job just because she asked for four weeks salary — $10,000 — in advance.

But the management of the elegant basement known as "La Martiniere" said the ex-stripper and novelist "simply walked out" and the club is going to sue her for $150,000 in lost profits.

Gipsy received reporters today wearing chartreuse slacks and a candy-striped blouse. She frequently dabbed at tearful eyes with a handkerchief.

Her failure to open her show last night, she said, was "due to several things" and she was "all-fired mad" about all of them.

First, she said, the club opened two weeks late and there weren't enough rehearsals.

THEN SHE SAID, she asked for the advance on her salary, and the club manager told her he was not going to pay her salary "tonight or any other night."

The director of her union — the American Guild of Variety Artists — told her that meant she was fired. He stopped rehearsals.

"La Martiniere" opened last night. But ten chorines girls were left with almost nothing to wear.

"Certainly I took those costumes," Gipsy said. "I made those parties myself, sewed my own lace and ribbon on them to make the girls in my act more attractive."

Could she describe the costumes? "They consist of practically nothing," she said. "That's why they are so expensive."

Rains Forecast Today With Mercury Drop

Occasional rains will punctuate today. The rains will vanish tonight as lower temperatures stalk the area and tomorrow will be colder but still cloudy.

The rains should show up again Tuesday, the weather bureau said.

DR. HOTTENSTEIN CALLED BY NAVY

Bally's Widely-Traveled Physician to Leave for Service Assignment Dec. 1

Dr. David F. Hottenstein, for ten years Bally's only doctor, will go on active duty with the Navy Dec. 1.

Who, if anyone, will replace him is unknown. Also undetermined is the length of his Navy tour of duty.

For the 42-year-old doctor, it will be another square in a life which has been a checkerboard of variety.

Before he settled down to become the fifth generation member of the Hottenstein family to practice medicine in Berks county, an itching foot led him across Eastern and Western seas and into the heart of Hitler's Germany.

The general practitioner was born in Philadelphia. His father, also a doctor, moved from Kutztown, the family seat, because the five other Dr. Hottensteins there at the time were taking all the trade the name could bear, he felt.

Greek Premier Quits; Failed To Whip Rebels

ATHENS, Greece, Nov. 12 (P)—Premier Themistokles Sophoulis handed in the resignation of his government today because rebels in his own Liberal party charged he had failed to crush the Communist guerrillas.

Sophocles Venizelos, deputy leader of the party, had warned away enough Liberals to combine with the opposition and force the fall of the government on a vote of confidence. He charged that the coalition government formed 14 months ago by Liberals and their political rivals, the Populists, had failed to make good on its promises to pacify Greece.

The 87-year-old Sophoulis gave his resignation to King Paul shortly after noon. He had announced two weeks ago he was going to quit, but had remained in office under a truce with Venizelos until the United Nations debate on Greece in Paris was ended.

The king promptly summoned home Foreign Minister Constantinos Tsaldaris, premier before Sophoulis and the nation's representative at the U. N. Tsaldaris, leader of the Populists (monarchists) in the coalition, hurriedly left Paris for the Greek capital.

It was expected the king would confer with leaders of some of the other larger parties after consulting Tsaldaris, who may or may not be asked to form a government.

15 Nazis are Hanged As War Criminals

MUNICH, Germany, Nov. 12 (P)—Fifteen former guards at the Mauthausen concentration camp were hanged at Landsberg prison today. An American war crimes court had convicted them of slaying more than 4600 wartime inmates of the camp, including 47 American and British airmen.

The executions raised to 58 the number of convicted German war criminals hanged at Landsberg in the past month.

Special Session of Congress Urged to Speed Chinese Aid

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12 (AP)—Senator Bridges (R-NH) urged today that President Truman immediately summon a special session of Congress to step up American aid to China.

Unless the Chinese government gets effective assistance at once, Bridges said, there is a grave danger that the Communists may engulf all of China, "lock, stock and barrel."

Wellington Koo, the Chinese ambassador said "the Communist menace in China is the gravest of its kind in any part of the world."

Koo said he had no direct comment to make on the special session proposal but did declare in a statement that China "in the face of the Communist armed revolt to seize control of the whole country, has urgent need of and would welcome more aid and assistance given promptly."

In a statement issued through his office, Bridges urged that Congress be called back immediately. The Senator himself was in Des Moines to make a speech.

AT DES MOINES, Bridges said he had "discussed" the calling of a special session with various Republican leaders, but acted upon his own initiative in urging the President to summon the lawmakers to Washington.

Technically, the 80th Congress is still in existence, and still dominated by Republicans. Terms of the adjournment legislation it adopted the past Aug. 7 reserved to the Republican leaders of the House and Senate the right to bring Congress back at any time, without necessarily a call by the President.

There was no indication that Bridges had approached those leaders to exercise their power. House Speaker Martin left this morning for Massachusetts, his office reported.

The 81st Congress, under Democratic control, is to convene Jan. 3. Bridges has demanded again and again that America take steps to bolster the Chinese government's defenses against the Communist forces which have overrun the north of that vast country and now are threatening Nanking and Shanghai.

He is chairman of the "watchdog" committee established by the 80th Congress to check on the operation

Talks on Peace Hinted Between Arabs and Jews

TEL AVIV, Israel, Nov. 12 (P)—Direct exploratory talks on the possibilities of a separate peace are underway not only between Israel and Egypt, but with all the other Arab states, it was declared here today on high authority.

The government officially, however, denies that direct peace negotiations are taking place.

Diplomatic writers in the Hebrew press explain that while talks are going on they are of a preliminary nature. The talks are proceeding, the writers say, not only in Paris but elsewhere and possibly in Washington.

(Trans-Jordan and Egyptian official spokesmen have denied that any separate peace negotiations were under way.)

FOREIGN OFFICE sources say the British are doing all possible to stifle the Arabs in their demands in any negotiations. These sources say Britain is interested in having a large military base in the southern desert which would be linked with the Trans-Jordan port of Aqaba on the gulf of Aqaba and Gaza on the South Palestine coast.

These informants assert also that Britain is interested in bolstering Trans-Jordan's prestige by incorporating the Hebron-Bethlehem area and the Jenin-Tulkarm-Nablus triangle of Central Palestine in King Abdullah's territory.

Nations Map Plans for Pact Asking U.S. Aid

NANKING, Nov. 12 (AP)—Pro-government newspapers proclaimed in extras today a "major victory" over nine Chinese Communist columns along the grand canal 160 miles northwest of Nanking.

(The Communist radio heard in Peking and San Francisco, made similar victory claims over government forces. The Communists said they were within six miles north of Suchow, last main base guarding Nanking.)

The officially-sanctioned Nanking reports said National troops savagely attacked and harried back General Chen Yi's troops who were trying to cross the historic canal.

The reports said the Communists suffered 37,000 casualties and fled in disorder in a battle that began Wednesday night and lasted through Friday morning.

Government claims of victory and of enemy casualties usually are greatly exaggerated, but it was the consensus of observers in this capital that the main Communist drive against Suchow had been stopped, at least temporarily.

The Communist radio heard in Peking said two government divisions had gone over to the Communist side north of Suchow. It boasted that the government's Seventh army corps was being "annihilated" east of Suchow, and the Second corps was being surrounded west of Suchow.

Other Communist broadcasts heard in San Francisco said another government division was "wiped out" east of Suchow on Wednesday.

LONDON, Nov. 12 (P)—Plans for a North Atlantic defense pact calling for United States and Canadian military support if Western Europe is attacked moved swiftly ahead today.

The permanent committee of the Brussels pact powers — Britain, France, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg — met in secret to draft an alliance proposal which they hoped would be acceptable to the U. S. and Canada.

U. S. Defense Secretary James Forrestal arrived in London from Paris for conferences with Prime Minister Clement Attlee and U. S. military representatives.

Persistent reports circulated in diplomatic circles that Foreign Minister Ernest Bevin will attend a Trans-Atlantic pact conference when Washington and Ottawa sources predict will write the final text of the treaty before Christmas in the American capital.

In Paris, a French foreign ministry spokesman said France and Belgium have offered drafts of a proposed alliance. The French proposal would bind the United States to defend Western Europe for 50 years. A committee of all powers of the alliance would consult on the day of an attack, and decide the nature of aid.

THE BOOK OF ALL NATIONS

More than any other, the Bible is a world-book. It has spoken in most of the languages of mankind. On Thanksgiving this Book will be opened to a particular passage by millions of people in many lands. "Bless the Lord, O my soul." This great 103rd Psalm is the opening selection of the Fifth Worldwide Bible Reading, a program that starts each year on Thanksgiving and ends on Christmas Day.

All over the world men and women, in their own tongue, follow the suggested list of daily Scripture readings. God's Word working in the lives of men can bring all nations into one world under God.

Begin your reading with the Thanksgiving passage and nourish your spiritual growth with the life-giving message.

Read it aloud to your family. Encourage your friends to join in. A chain of Bible readers around the world will strengthen the bonds of international friendship and understanding, and will give additional faith to every individual.

The Book is powerful. Through you, let its influence radiate into the farthest corners of the globe.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is the source of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, modern democracy cannot flourish on earth. There are four ways in which you can help the Church: (1) To its own sake. (2) For the sake of the world. (3) For the sake of the Church. (4) For the sake of the individual. For the sake of the Church, which needs its members and its leaders, pray for it and support it. For the sake of the individual, read the Bible and let it guide you.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 13, 1943

A wide-spreading, hopeful disposition is our only true umbrella in this vale of tears. — Thomas Bailey Aldrich.

What Might Have Been
THE sadder words of song or pen: It might have been!
Intelligent, thorough police work might have prevented a $40,000 Maryland dairy barn fire.
For now it seems Pottstown police had in their hands a self-confessed firebug. But they allowed him to get away, didn't follow his discharge from a hospital.
The result: Another costly fire.

It seems Pottstown police had a fairly strong lead when the Shaner coal yard was damaged by a $15,000 fire almost three years ago. They suspected a person who had been suspected of arson previously.
But their attitude was one of disinterest.
Their questioning was hampered by their suspect's "illness." Then, when he was hospitalized in Maryland, they made no efforts to keep tabs on him, no effort to be advised
when he would be discharged.
So another fire occurred.
Now maybe disinterest is not criminal.
Maybe disinterest can't be prosecuted at law.
But certainly such inefficiency doesn't add lustre to the record of any police department.

Our Changing Morals
REMEMBER the hue and cry that was raised
when one of the cigar companies first used a young woman in an advertisement?
That's been within the past 20 years, to the best of our recollection.
Today, little objection is heard, and women
have become a big market for the cigar firms.
Today, too, the brewers are using women
to illustrate their advertisements, and their appeals for more business are making more drunkards among women, just as the cigar
appeals made more cigar smokers.

Sometime ago, Dr. Jessie Bernard, of the Department of Sociology at Penn State College, surveyed the drinking—and eating—habits of 336 college women in a co-educational institution.
The survey disclosed that, while young women who do not drink had fewer dates than those who do drink, the non-drinkers were more likely to become engaged.
Conclusions were that social drinking is on the increase, a fact that should be apparent
to anyone who gets around, without the help of a survey.

The years 17 to 18 are the critical ages
when young women take up the cup, the survey revealed.
This trend to smoking and drinking by women is another of those social developments tagged with the name "liberal," as opposed to the "conservative" ideas of a past generation.

Fruit of Potsdam
THE miracle of the Berlin airlift—supplying
a city of millions with fuel and food—
brings into stark relief the contrast of the engineering and the political mind. Certainly the intelligence back of the lift is no greater than the stupidity that made it necessary.
How long must man be compelled to waste
so much of the gifts of the technician in patching up the ravages of the politician?
The question has been growing more acute
ever since James Watt constructed a workable steam engine, only to see so much of its earlier gains to society swallowed up in the Napoleonic wars. It has been growing grum-per ever since that atomic pile began reacting out at Stagg Field.

The 100 Per Centers
COURT decisions having removed the last
barrier to their voting, America's 380,000
Indians were all free to troop to the polls
the past Tuesday. They were free to vote, that is, if they cared to risk being called recipients of Communism if they voted for Wallace; empyronic Fascists if they voted for Dewey; budding Socialists if they voted for Truman.

Fast Turnover
HARRY A. MEHL, General Electric company engineer, told the National Electronics Conference that our clock was rotating faster in 1929 than in 1933, but that it has slowed down since.
So that was it? Stock market players thought so at the time.

Some Alley Parkers Get Tags, Others Are Passed Up

Says Police Guilty, Too
To the Editor: You ask in your editorial, "Where are the police?" as parked cars jam up Buttonwood alley.
I can tell you. They are parking in the alley, too.
Third may sound foolish, but I have seen the police car parked in the alley.
The driver wasn't far away, that is true.
Yet, in the meantime, other cars were trying to snake by.
I live on Buttonwood alley and I have seen policemen tag some cars and pass others up. They seem to have an un-canby ability to recognize strange cars.
These cars get the tickets.
Now that you have brought this condition to public attention (and I know it isn't the first time), I would like to ask
our chief Burgess this question:
How can you sit back and openly deny
the persons who elected you to office
by permitting such conditions to exist?
How about getting out and swing your foot a little? If the chief of police happens to be in front of the toe, so much the better. Maybe he'll land over in Buttonwood alley and see what things are like here.
Remember, Burgess, what happened to Cal Coolidge. He never hurt anyone—because he never did anything. His administration has been classed as one of the biggest flops in American history.

WASHINGTON
Democrats' Big Day
Has Irony Aftermath

By RAY TUCKER
WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—The ironic aftermath of the Democrats' carnival of victory on Nov. 2 is that the farmers who voted so unexpectedly for President Truman are suffering from a drop in prices
for their products, whereas industrial interests supposed to be hostile to him stand
to make money out of his triumph.
The prices of meat, butter, milk and several other farm items have declined sharply. In fact, it was this lowering in the last few weeks of the campaign,
together with the fear that the Republicans might remove or reduce agricultural subsidies, which enabled Mr. Truman to carry farm states regarded as safely Republican.

PRICES: Food costs are going
down for economic rather than political reasons. Butter has fallen from a dollar to about 70 cents a pound.
The reason is the housewives' realization that they can use margarine as a cheap substitute.
Although the decline in meat and egg prices may be only seasonal, they have fallen because of the heavy production of feed grains. Cattle are coming to market heavier than they did only a few months ago. No politician was responsible for the weather
and ideal growing conditions.

PAY: Any drop in the cost of living
will benefit the employers of labor in the industrial states which, save for Illinois and Ohio, gave their electoral ballots to Governor Dewey.

For one thing, an increase in the buying power of take-home pay, because of lower prices for food and clothes will tend to prevent a demand for another round of wage increases. It should lessen the prospect of strikes in certain key industries. That will mean greater production, which should lead to lower prices,
and it should roll up larger profits even after taxes.

INCREASE: Another strange but hopeful aspect of the Democratic victory is that it has not thrown a scare into industrialists who need to expand their plants. Although a jittery Wall Street shivered for a few days by recording a sharp fall in the prices of stocks, the speculators' behavior is regarded as a temporary aberration not a measure of national economic strength.

Industry is going ahead with blueprints for an increase of productive capacity, including the private utilities which were the target of presidential attack during the campaign.

Disregarding storm warnings hoisted
at Broad and Wall Streets, the men whom Moscow denounces as "greedy capitalists"
look forward to several years of good times on the basis of high purchasing power, a slight drop in prices resulting from increased output, and full employment at peak wages.

CONFIDENCE: Some suggest that the nation's business men and industrialists are behaving like the townspeople who did not heed the shepherd's frequent call of "wolf."

Having survived four Rooseveltian triumphs, they have become immune to prophecies of doom and to President Truman's characterization of them as "glu-tious of privilege."

Others advance the idea that industry's surprising confidence amounts to a vote of confidence in the Amer can people, regardless of which party controls the government at Washington.

THE WAYWARD BUS

You don't know what it is to suffer.
Our husbands were in the service and we were always on pins and needles. So what, if we were under Democratic leadership for 16 years? The Republicans are only for themselves and the rich man.
We have to have someone to thank of less fortunate people like us. So more power to President Truman.

your interesting article about the secret
canner of borough officials that all of the councilmen were present. You didn't mention all of their names.
Now when I go to vote in the next

struck a blow against this undemocratic

Thinks Punch Boards Safe
To the Editor: Places in Pottstown that operate punch boards need not fear any such clean-up as is now started in Berks county.
Punch boards are common to clubs and private taprooms alike. You can find them in other places, too.
So no one is out to cut anyone else's throat in punch boards. They are gambling, sure. But as long as everyone gets part of the "cut," there won't be any ripping.
It all makes more clearer the insinuance of the anti-gambling (slot machines) crusade of the retail liquor dealers.

They'll Stick to Truman
To the Editor: To the writer of "Says

you are, a 17-year-old girl, to talk about the Democrats when you are not of age

We pay our taxes and think nothing of it. That is something you cannot get away from. If there is to be a war we cannot prevent it and neither can President Truman, and you'd just be lucky enough to have a hole to crawl into.

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
GREGORY L. 42, is head of the shipping department of a publishing firm.
Dr. Crane, just look at this blanketyblank signature, will you?" he exploded
when I was visiting him recently in his office.
"This fellow writes in for some books,
but we can't even read his signature!"
"Some of these Horace Greeleyes do have letterheads, so we can then figure out their scrawled signature by looking for their printed name at the top of the page, out this man has used a plain sheet of paper.
"Wouldn't you think a man would take enough pride in his name to write
it legibly?"
A person who places an illegible signature at the bottom of a good letter, has also lost an excellent advertising opportunity.
For our names are much like advertising slogans, but they cannot figure
good unless people are able to read them.
Even in college, a poor handwriting is a decided detriment. I have seen professors short in rage at an examination paper which was so poorly written
as to delay the professor twice as long
in reading that blue book.
"Why under the sun don't these morons go back to school and learn how to write?" one such professor recently exploded.
Now, if that student's paper were on the borderline between "C" and a "B"
grade, what do you think that irate professor gave him?
Don't hand down your chances for a job or for a contest prize by scintillating handwriting. Busy men are always irritated by having to waste extra time
reading a poorly written letter or examination paper.
Fortunately, the advent of the free-writer has lessened a great deal the need for handwriting, but that is all the more reason why a person should sign
his name in a manner which is a credit
to himself instead of a handicap.
And remember, too, that minor impressions may sometimes prejudice a prospective employer. If you are a man, then write like a man.
By this, I mean use the broad point
of your pen instead of the fine point,
for a fine script is popularly associated with femininity.
A man's signature is normally bolder
and written with heavier strokes of the pen.
A person's distinctive stationery may also act as an indirect advertisement for himself.
In fact, many a young man detects
his sweetheart's letter in pile on the table just by the color and quality of the envelope, or by its faint perfume.
Even in business, too, it is an asset
to have a suitable but distinctive type
of letterhead and envelope.
In this connection, be cautious about very black ink and bold free type for these often suggest strictly commercial
"feeling tone" of the "price" rather than the "quality" sort.

Agnes Moorhead
doesn't know this,

exec, unaware that she had just finished a big picture, offered her less than her usual salary. Instead of jumping at it, she turned him
down and jumped out of his reach.
She went right into a top role with Jimmy Stewart in "Monty Strat-

finished with his movie debut in

Though Cornell Wilde's contract at Columbia is finite, he may be borrowed from 20th-Fox to co-star again with Patricia Knight at that studio,
when the two return from Europe. It would be a follow-up to "The Lover's" which they

Ed "Archie" Gardner agrees that some people in this world
have a sixth sense. The trouble is most of them seem to lack
the other five!

GEORGE SANDERS has done a real right-about-face in the manner of his personality lately. Especially since the big romance with Eva Gabor, his soon-to-be Mrs. He's not nearly so cynical anymore. We used to wonder who curled his lip

recently completed—and it helped a lot. Overheard by Frank Bull
"Halt, my friends don't know Bull since he lost his money, and the other half doesn't know he's lost it!"

WHO WILL produce the movie
of the Bway Smash, "Mr. Roberts" which stars Henry Fonda, still furnishes Hollywood table talk. But if Leland Hayward makes it himself, with William Wyler directing, as is

be witnessing a movie starring her first husband, directed by her sec-

third! Eyebrows are up over the Howard Hughes edict to his recently-acquired studio personnel
at RKO. He'll make only medium

a "message." And accent on mus-

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.
OF LATE years, just as penicillin and other new drugs have enabled us to score victory after victory over most forms of pneumonia, a new type of this disease has been forcing itself on our attention.
We have recently come to realize that it is the particular enemy of childhood in that at any season of the year
it is more common among youngsters
than all other forms of pneumonia combined.
This comparatively new disorder is known as atypical pneumonia. Unfortunately, it is difficult to diagnose and may often be confused with influenza.
Beginning gradually with inflammation of the nose and throat, it does not
at first appear to make the child seriously ill. Later, there is fever, which often rises to 105 degrees, and coughing which is severe and dry. The child is prostrated, has headache, and often has pain under the breast bone. There may also be pain in the abdomen, and vomiting. The heart rate is slow.
Examination of the blood does not help much, since half the patients show an increase in white blood cells. About one-fourth will have fewer white cells
than normal.
About the third day of the disease, the lungs begin to show evidence of the infection. In seven cases out of ten, the disorder affects the lower lobes of both lungs. The most frequent sign found on examination is the presence of what are called rales, which are abnormal sounds
made by the passing of the air into and out of the infected lungs. X-ray examination is of course helpful in the diagnosis and, in fact, it is often difficult to make a definite diagnosis without it.
This disorder runs its course in about ten or twelve days, although it may last
as long as three weeks.
If a definite diagnosis is not made,
X-rays should be taken at daily intervals until the changes which mark this form of pneumonia occurs.
The exact cause of this condition is not definitely known, but it would appear entirely probable that it is due to infection with a virus. For this reason it is often referred to as virus pneumonia.
Insofar as treatment is concerned,
there does not appear to be any measures
which seem to be specific in this disease.
In other words, such substances as penicillin or the sulfonamide drugs do not seem to affect this condition.
Of course, the patient should be kept
at complete rest in bed, given plenty of fluids, and a well-balanced diet.

ALL AROUND THE TOWN

Lay That Pistol Down!...
Santa Claus Forgotten...

ARMISTICE — All should be peaceful in the Brooke Fryer homestead at 130 Chestnut street now. Mrs. Fryer gave away her set of boxing gloves! That's a joke, of course, son. But Mrs. Fryer did make a generous gift of a dandy set of boy's boxing gloves and a football game to Francis Donnon, superintendent of the Pottstown Recreation department. The gifts will be used in Pottstown's play centers. . . . Pottstown matron said she directed her five-year-old son's gaze to the Manatoway cam just south of High street.
"Larry, look at all the water going over the dam," his mother suggested. The boy turned a questioning eye toward his mother, then asked: "Look at the water
going over the dam what?"

CLEAN UP — Perhaps to show that their bank was up and coming too, officials of the National Iron bank had the stone front of their High street
building cleaned thoroughly yesterday. Only recently, the impressively large bronze door of the nearby Security Trust company was all painted up. Taking advantage of the holiday to work in peace, a workman hustled yesterday with an efficient polisher, changing the appearance of the building from grimy grey to something approaching white.

MYSTERY — Walter Groff, driver for
the Philadelphia Steam Fire Engine company, is beginning to wonder if somebody has repealed the law of averages in Pottstown. So is George Mauger, the driver who shares the 24-hour duty with Groff. A check of the company's call records for the past month and a half showed that there were 20 calls. Walter had 19 of them. Many of the calls have come either just before he arrived for duty and/or just after he was ready for relief. One night he had three calls.
Since Groff and Mauger alternate on day
and night shifts, it can't be blamed
on the time element.

SATURDAY SNICKER — A number of jokes which are supposed to be in vogue behind the iron curtain have been making the rounds. One of the best goes as follows:
A Soviet purchasing agent named Krish was sent to a number of countries to buy goods. Arriving in Belgrade, Krish called home. "Arrangements made. Long live free Rumania!" And from Prague he cried: "Arrangements made.
Long live free Czechoslovakia!"
Finally Krish arrived in the United States. His final cable read: "Am in New York. Long live free Krish!"

TRAINER — Stanley Stolar, son of Mr.
and Mrs. Philip Stolar, 543 Lincoln avenue, is undergoing recruit training
at the Navy's Great Lakes, Ill., center.
Santa Claus won't come to Pottstown
this year! That is, unless one of Potts-town's department stores comes to the rescue! Seems the Mercantile Bureau of the Chamber of Commerce turned down
the annual stunt of bringing Santa Claus here—by train or plane or gyro. But one of High street's enterprising emporiums
may adopt the stunt and Pottstown's kiddies won't be disappointed.

Dollars Pour Into Fund For Boy Polio Victim

Within a few hours after the announcement was made last week that a television set was to be provided for Richard Weller, polio-stricken youth in an iron lung at the Reading hospital, a stream of contributions poured into the fund headed by Daniel M. Grofe.

The contributions to date amount to $454.

Three-Act Mystery To Be Presented by Stowe Senior Class

"The Bat in the Belfry," a three-act play, will be staged on Dec. 2 at 8 o'clock in the West Pottsgrove High school auditorium, the senior class of the school.

Written by Lawrence G. Worcester, the mystery of the play centers around the bell in the belfry of Sleepy Valley church. Every Halloween this bell, which also tolls the hour of the day and night, has been striking, through some mysterious manner, an extra stroke after the hour of three in the morning, and each time this has happened, one of the beautiful Faelton sisters has disappeared.

The only clue is a message signed, "The Red Robe," threatening to destroy not only the Faelton sisters, but even the church itself.

THERE ARE a number of strange, interesting and even comical persons popping in and out of the cast, and their doings make for a mystery with an ample share of comedy to lighten the tense moments.

Pupils participating in the mystery are: Randall Boyer, Albert Stauffer, Stephen Takacs, James Sherman, Stephen Salbo, Joe Corr, Shirley Bush, Pauline Smith, Betty Ehling, Jeanne Pekar, Peggy Schneider, Freda DiGiaccio and Isabelle DeNico.

Mr. Charles Wagner is the director.

We will indeed endeavor to evolve a foolproof method of rapid distribution for "GAY GLITTER" for 1949, so that nothing will mar the pleasure at this gala occasion given for the MEMORIAL HOSPITAL AUXILIARY.

The management of KESSLER'S is exceedingly grateful for the generous manner in which the people of Pottstown, and from far and wide, supported this annual pageant. It was a pleasure to present this spectacle to such an appreciative and overflowing audience.

Thanks to all those who co-operated so splendidly.

Mrs. Stamm Praised For 'Glitter' Work

Town-wide praise is being accorded Mrs. Richard Parker Stamm, general chairman of the Gay Glitter production, for her indefatigable work in making the show a success at Sunnybrook the past Wednesday. Mrs. Stamm worked for months on the spectacle that attracted 4000 wide-eyed spectators. The show was given for the benefit of the Memorial Hospital.

"Success of the show was due principally to Mrs. Stamm's hard work," said Mrs. Albert Kessler, production manager, yesterday. "She worked for months, not for days. She never was too tired to accomplish one more detail. If the hospital is able to give more merciful service because of the show—thanks for the same should go to Mrs. Stamm."

Early Morning Train To Philadelphia Delayed

Passengers for the 5:23 o'clock Reading company train for Philadelphia were stranded at the station for 47 minutes yesterday morning.

Local railroad officials said the train developed engine trouble which delayed its arrival in Pottstown.

The eastbound train finally arrived at 6:10 o'clock for its complement of early morning passengers.

ing instructor, will lead the Saturday night affairs, Donnon announced. He also announced that orchestra has been booked for each Saturday night up to Dec. 18.

Donnon, Price, Don Goodnow, YMCA boys' work secretary, and Mrs. J. Robert Gray, who will supply the chaperones, met with the student committee yesterday.

Members of this latter group were chosen to represent their classes. They are Barbara Weikel and Irene Corbett, vice president and secretary of the Senior class, Louise Shaner and Pete Peroni, secretary and coeditor; member of the Junior class, and Mary Lou Singer and Robert Nagle, president and treasurer of the Sophomore class.

STUDENT REPRESENTATIVES from Norco and West Pottsgrove, also will be asked to serve on the committee, Donnon remarked.

He stressed that the students will take charge of the dances with only a minimum of adult supervision.

"We want them to be fun for everyone," he declared. "This can best be done by letting the students plan for themselves."

leaving Friday night for last-day hunting.

Final arrangements, including exactly who else is going, will be decided later in the week. One or two co-workers with the elder Powell in the Firestone Tire and Rubber company plant may join the safari, he said.

They will go to the Sullivan county cabin of a Reading man who has organized the trip.

Among others shouldering bear guns on opening day will be Alvin Kerper, 797 North Franklin street.

ALLEY PARKERS —

between this and a black sedan facing west, parked on the south side.

Another 60 yards up the alley were two sedans parked nose to nose on the north side, with a "No Parking" sign between them. And a car was coming the other way on the alley.

At that point, (7:33 o'clock) the forethoughtful motorist would have sent the man with the red lantern to the fore.

Preceded by a swarming light, the motorist probably could have pulled onto Hanover street easily, although cars were parked right up to the alley cracks along Hanover street.

IT WOULD HAVE been clear sailing onto the resumption of the alley, which becomes one-way beginning at King street.

At the blind left turn halfway down the block, the man with the lantern would have received his sternest test, for a black sedan was parked just around the corner, making the cramped turning a test of nerves.

From this turn until Charlotte street, everything would have been easy, if the motorist could have ignored the two cars parked on the wrong side of the street.

Admittedly, the survey was made at an unfortunate time of night, for the following message went over the police radio at 8:20 o'clock:

"Car 42 (Pottstown patrol car), four-two Buttonwood alley, from York street. Parked cars."

Democratic National Chairman J. Howard McGrath, Vice President-elect Barkley and Leslie L. Biffle, director of the Senate Democratic policy committee, flew over to Havana to spend a few hours.

They called on President Priu during their visit.

Then departure interrupted conferences on the administration legislative program for January and a reorganization of the administration.

Germans Slay at Home To Protest High Prices

FRANKFURT, Germany, Nov. 12 (P) — A 24-hour stay-at-home strike of 8,000,000 industrial and shop workers protesting high prices in the American and British zones of Germany moved toward a quiet conclusion tonight.

Shouting demonstrators in Brunswick forced a theater to close but for the most part it was what union leaders called "a quiet show of strength."

A union ban on demonstrations, parades and picketing made the strike anything but spectacular.

DR. HOTTENSTEIN —

has been working about 20 hours a day, he said.

At the onset of the recent war, a range between the Army and the Navy over which service he would enter delayed his induction so long that most other doctors in the Navy entered the service and he was forced to remain behind later, he joined the Naval Reserve.

He will report to the Philadelphia Naval hospital as a lieutenant commander. He received the advanced rank in exchange for agreeing to an early call to duty.

His wife and two children will remain in his Baltimore home until he is assigned to a post and settles there.

His office will close on Thanksgiving Day. He is the last of the Berks county Dr. Hottensteins.

Agriculture Secretary Asks Subsidy Revisions

PORTLAND, Me., Nov. 12 (P) — Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan said tonight the long-range farm price support program passed by the Republican-controlled 80th Congress needs to be revised.

He told a news conference that the act has two major defects. He said they are:

1. Lack of flexibility in determining price supports to encourage farmers to reduce output of crops in oversupply and to step up production of those in short supply.
2. A requirement that farm price supports be reduced at a time when farmers' production costs still may be rising.

RAIL UNIONS —

turned the railroads over to the Army and the government got a court order barring the strike.

The three unions bowed to the injunction and cancelled the scheduled walkout.

Neither the unions nor carriers translated the 10 cent wage increase accepted into a percentage basis. Loomis said he expected contracts would be signed tomorrow.

Loomis also said the various demands of the 16 nonoperating unions would total about $1,500,000 a year.

ALTHOUGH THE FIVE operating unions claim a total of some 420,000 dues paying members, some are retired and there is some overlapping of membership. The carriers estimate they employ about 350,000 operating workers.

Chiefs of the three unions involved in the decision were not immediately available for comment. Aides said they were in conference.

The three unions are the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, and the Switchmen's Union of North America.

Negotiations for the five operating unions began Sept. 14. After the first two unions—the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and the Order of Railway Trainmen—representing 175,000 employees, accepted the 10 cent hike, negotiations between the other three groups and the railroads broke down.

foot stone wall surrounding the cemetery when her assailant turned on her.

Then she fled through the gate she had entered, pursued by her attacker who beat and dragged her through the alley.

IN THE CEMETERY in a neat hole were Mrs. Avalon's red shoes, her scarf, a red purse and half a cigarette. Nearby police found the heelers of a man's shoe.

At the wall investigators found a wall of blood-stained snowing gum smeared with hair. It was at this point, police theorized the woman sought to flee over the wall.

In the alley near the body, police found a slip, a dress, a stocking and an imitation leopard coat and hat to match.

Chief Christine said Mrs. Avalon, the former Mary V. Parente of Easton, was married to Avalon on Aug. 12, 1939, at Nazareth, Pa., and later lived in Easton before coming here about a year ago.

THE POLICE CHIEF said Mrs. Avalon filed a divorce action here against Avalon on May 17, 1948, charging cruel and barbarous treatment. The action notice was mailed to Avalon's service address at Camp Stoneman, Calif., but was returned unclaimed.

At Camp Stoneman, Army public relations officers said Avalon was transferred out of the camp in July, 1947.

PARIS, Saturday, Nov. 13 (P) — A 24-hour general strike in Paris and the suburbs began at midnight Friday.

It was called by Communist labor leaders. They said it was their answer to what they termed police brutality in an Armistice Day clash on the Champs Elysees between police and demonstrators.

Police said yesterday 95 policemen and 45 demonstrators were injured in the outbreak.

Young Man Gets Probation For Car Theft Attempt

By Staff Correspondent
NORRISTOWN, Nov. 12—John W. Erwin, 25, Phoenixville, was placed on probation for one year today by Judge William Dannehower after Erwin pleaded guilty to a charge of trying to steal a Pottstown woman's car by crossing ignition wires.

Erwin, who also was ordered to pay the costs, was arrested by Patrolman Joseph Tines at 12:35 a. m. the past Nov. 4, while he was busy on switching wires in the big sedan of Mrs. Carrie L. March, 25 High street.

Two men who told Tines of the attempt, Charles Watkins, of 21 West Third street, and Earl Houck, of 21 Reynolds avenue, said Erwin previously had tried to enter two other cars, including Watkins'. All were parked near the March home.

The defendant, a veteran, told the court that he had been drinking and did not know what he was doing.

Help build up YOUR COWS with PURINA RANGE CHECKERS...a quality range supplement
Yes, many cattlemen get 90% calf crops—some almost 100%—by feeding Purina Range Checkers for 3 to 5 months during the winter. And their calves are usually enough bigger in size to more than pay the cost of the feed. All this is made possible because the cows are usually brought through the winter in better condition on Purina Range Checkers.
Why? Because Range Checkers contain 3 kinds of proteins—cottonseed, linseed and soybean oil meal...plus minerals, and molasses—a fine conditioner.
So, before you buy or book feed, ask us about Range Checkers. IT'S PRICED RIGHT!

Trojans Play Final Home Game Today Against Bridgeport foe

CHUBBY STOUGH MAY START IN PHS BACKFIELD

Pottstown Eleven Seeks Fifth Triumph: Game to Start at 2:15 o'Clock

Pottstown High's Trojans play their final home game of the season on Franklin field this afternoon, rolling out the welcome carpet to Bridgeport High's tricky Dragons.

The Dragons and Trojans will start action at 2:15 o'clock on the North Franklin street gridiron.

Bridgeport comes to town today looking for its first conquest of the Pottstown gridders since 1944, when Carmen Falcone, now a University of Pennsylvania star, passed the ball all over the field to give the Dragons a 15-12 victory.

The Dragons will field a tricky team this afternoon although their record is not too impressive. The Dragons have only won two games to date and have lost five. One of the Bridgeport conquests was a 14-7 win over Conshohocken, a team that fell under the Trojans by a 45-7 count.

POTTSTOWN wound up its preparations for the game last night, with Coach Heeb Meyers continuing to stress defense against Bridgeport's seven formations.

Meyers told the Trojans they can expect to have the Dragons run from a single wing, double wing, L-formation, T-formation, two spread formations and a formation that places two wingbacks to the right of the line.

After yesterday's workout, Meyers said that he may start Bob "Chubby" Stough against the Dragons this afternoon. The Trojan mentor said he was undecided about the left halfback position. "Toke" Howard was shaken up a little against Coatsville a week ago but is in good shape. Stough led the Trojans on the ground in the second half against the Raiders and may be called on to lug the leather when the opening whistle blows today.

Meyers said if Stough does start, that will be the only change in the lineup.

Irish-Northwestern, Army-Penn Battle in Top Grid Games Today

NEW YORK, Nov. 12 (AP)—A high percentage of national football interest will center tomorrow on South Bend, Ind., where Notre Dame, meeting its stiffest test of the season, will be out to prove both on the field and on the scoreboard that it has a better team than Michigan.

Northwestern's young eleven is cast as the gridiron guinea pig, and is certain to prove a reluctant subject. The Wildcats lost their only game to Michigan a month ago, 28-0. The undefeated Irish feel duty bound to inflict a worse beating than that on the boys from Evanston.

At the moment, Michigan stands No. 1 in the Association Press weekly poll of the country's top teams, with Notre Dame No. 2 and breathing down the Wolverines' necks. Army is No. 3 and California, fourth.

Dispatches from Indiana report that Coach Frank Leahy of the Irish is mildly perturbed that his lads feel they must run up a high score on the Wildcats. He fears they will be over-eager.

THE ONLY OTHER game in which national prestige will be severely at stake is the meeting at Philadelphia between Army's undefeated speedsters and once-beaten Penn. In order to live up to their clippings, the Cadets will have to wallopp the Quakers good—better than the two-touchdown thumping administered by Penn State the past week.

The game will supply an extra added attraction for $8,000 fans in the meeting of the country's most highly-publicized centers, Chuck Bednarik of Penn and Bill Yeoman of Army. Given a dry field, the Cadets should score four or five times.

Michigan, safely past its most dangerous rivals, is considered a shoo-in against Indiana at Ann Arbor, while California's Golden Bears, hotshots of the Western slope, are expected to take Washington State in stride at Berkeley.

OF TOP SECTIONAL interest is the clash at Little Rock between Southern Methodist, once-beaten leader of the Southwest conference, and the Arkansas Razorbacks, Texas faces a possible turtar in Texas, Christian at Fort Worth.

Highlighting the day's program in the South is North Carolina's attempted comeback against Maryland at Griffith Stadium in Washington, D. C.

Undefeated Clemson plays a big rough Wake Forest team at Winston-Salem, and the press box observers down that way seem to feel that Clemson is in for a rude awakening.

FALCONS MEET ROYERSFORD ON GRIDIRON TODAY

Three Eagle Backfield Men Out of Action; Goheanmen Seek 3d Win

Sparked by a victory over Collegeville a week ago, the Falcons of West Pottsgrove invade Royersford this afternoon seeking their first triumph over the Eagles since the series started back in 1944.

The Eagles have beaten the Falcons four straight times and the closest the Stowe lads ever came to beating the Royersford eleven was in 1947 when the latter eked out a 13-6 decision.

One West Pottsgrove touchdown was nullified by a penalty and that TD may have given the Falcons a tie.

ROYERSFORD is sure to be on the rebound this afternoon after losing a 19-6 decision to East Greenville's new Montco league champs. That victory ended a long Royersford winning streak and Coach Bob McNelly's crew will be all out to start another streak today.

Only one game remains for each team after today's tussle. Royersford will meet Spring City on Thanksgiving Day and the Falcons take on neighboring North Coventry in their Turkey Day contest.

Three Royersford backfield men will not see action this afternoon, McNelly reported yesterday. Full-back Sherwood Schnell and Barney Grater are out with injuries. Herb Carl has been with injuries this week and won't play against the Falcons. Probable starting lineups:

Spring City Host To Boyertown foe On Gridiron Today

In their final test before the Thanksgiving Day battle with Royersford, Spring City High Pirates will face a hard battle this afternoon at 2 o'clock when they battle Boyertown's Bears on the Spring City campus.

A year ago Spring City emerged victorious over the Bears, counting by a 13 to 0 decision. Royersford topped Boyertown, 18 to 6, in their first game of the present season. Added interest also will be attached to this afternoon's matinee because Gene Groff, coach of the Pirates, lives in Boyertown.

Several of the Spring City first stringers are expected to be restricted to limited action because of injuries. Jim Dell and Phil Carl backs, are recovering from ankle and shoulder injuries and Richard Rosen, end, is improving from a bad knee.

Doc Cramer

Bill Evans, general manager of the Detroit Tigers, announced yesterday that a letter has been mailed to Roger "Doc" Cramer (above) advising him of his release as Tiger coach. Cramer, wartime centerfielder and a member of the Detroit team that beat the Chicago Cubs in the 1945 World Series, went on the inactive list and became a Tiger coach only the past Spring.

Maria Assunta Meets VVV's On Home Field

The VVV's, Reading's City champions for the past three years, invade the West Pottsgrove High gridiron tomorrow to test the Maria Assunta AC eleven.

The two teams will start action tomorrow at 2:15 o'clock.

Maria Assunta goes into tomorrow's tussle with a six and two record, the two losses coming at the hands of the Venaugo Bears of Philadelphia and Twin-Boro AA.

The VVV's have lost only one game this season while chalking up six wins. The lone setback was to Twin-Boro.

Following last night's workout on Haxton field, Coach Earl Strange announced that John Henry and Dick Cimino will be Maria Assunta's co-captains in tomorrow's game.

Lawrenceville Team Invades Hill Today

The Hill and Lawrenceville meet on the gridiron for the 54th time this afternoon with the local prep school acting as host.

The annual grid tussle is scheduled to get underway at 2:30 o'clock on Del. field at The Hill.

The series between these two prep schools started back in the Fall of 1887. The rivalry was discontinued in 1905 and was resumed again in 1917.

Of the 53 games played, Lawrenceville holds a big edge, having won 24 of the contests while losing only 11 to The Hill. Eight games have ended in ties.

With The Hill - Lawrenceville struggle comes the old tradition of "washing the shirt." This tradition started with the first Hill-Lawrenceville game when the Lawrenceville captain vowed he wouldn't wash his jersey until his team was beaten by The Hill.

WHENEVER The Hill beats Lawrenceville, the captain of the Red and Black team has to wash the jersey of Lawrenceville's first captain.

The "dirty kirtle" hasn't been washed since 1944, when The Hill eked out a 13-12 verdict over the New Jersey school.

NO CHANGES were seen in The Hill lineup as Coach Jack Riley named his starters last night.

Joe Hahn, former Pottstown High grid star, ends his football career at The Hill today. Hahn captained The Hill team this year and his reign comes to an end this afternoon. Neil Iselt, former Spring City High grider, also ends his football career at The Hill today.

HILL SEEKS FOURTH WIN

The Hill soccer team will face Lawrenceville, its traditional rival, on The Hill field this afternoon at 1 o'clock. The Hill team will be seeking its fourth win.

7th Day Adventists To Mark Week of Prayer, Sacrifice

A week of prayer and sacrifice will be observed by Pottstown Church of Seventh Day Adventists in Glasgow chapel from today to next Saturday. It was announced yesterday by Elder Charles H. Seitz.

Climax of the week, Elder Seitz declared, will be the receiving of the sacrificial offering next Saturday, when members will come a day's or a week's salary to the work of the church.

This offering, he asserted, will be used largely to support the denomination's mission schools, hospitals and other overseas institutions.

Prayer meetings are scheduled for each night of the week at the homes of various members.

Elder Seitz said in announcing the week: "Casual prayer means casual acquaintanceship. It takes much earnest prayer to become sufficiently acquainted with God to feel ready to meet Him face to face."

He also announced that Elder David S. Martin, who has undergone an operation in Washington hospital, Tacoma Park, D. C., soon will be able to resume his duties.

Drunken Driving Charge Costs Youth, 17, $100 and Costs in County Juvenile Court

By Staff Correspondent
NORRISTOWN, Nov. 12—A 17-year-old youth was arraigned before Judge Knight in juvenile court today on a charge of driving an automobile while under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

The defendant, Charles H. Cox, Kimberton, was directed to pay voluntarily the sum of $100 to the county in addition to the costs and was then placed on probation in the custody of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis P. Cox.

Juvenile Probation Officer Peter J. Frascine testified Cox was arrested by State Policemen Frank Clemens and Albert Kwader Saturday night, Oct. 30, after the car he was driving had struck a car parked on the property of Landis Sehman, Oaks.

THE BOY TOLD Frascine he had had at least 15 large glasses of beer to drink before he drove the car owned by George B. Paige, Chester Springs. Richard Paige, a sailor, was a passenger in the car at the time of the accident.

Frascine said the boy made a statement as to the number of beers he had been served and the names of those who had served him. This information has been relayed to the Liquor Control Board. Damages to the Sehman car, amounting to $42.85, have been paid.

Murder, Suicide Ruled In Pair's Bathtub Deaths

CHICAGO, Nov. 12 (P)—A verdict of murder and suicide from sleeping tablets and drowning was returned today by a coroner's jury investigating the bathtub deaths of a couple planning to be married.

The dead were George Reading, 40, Detroit precision machinery salesman, and Mrs. Jesse Beck, 31, of Chicago. Their bodies were found side by side Oct. 21 in the overflowing bathtub of Reading's room in the Croydon hotel.

The jurors held that Mrs. Beck died from drowning while under the influence of barbiturate poisoning administered by George Reading with intent to destroy the deceased. Reading, the jurors added, died of self-ingested poison with suicidal intent while temporarily insane.

2 Local Garages Lose Inspection Rights for Year

One-year suspensions of automobile inspection licenses for two local garages were announced yesterday by State police of the Collegeville sub-station.

Forbidden to conduct State auto inspections, effective early this month, were the garages of Louis P. Young, 1520 High street, and of Michael Drauschak, of Sanatoga, Pottstown RD. 4.

"Violations of rules and regulations," State police explained, caused the suspensions. They said they were forbidden to elaborate on the "violations."
